

JACKPOT 3X3

Game Rules and Help

Chance To Win

This Game has a minimum RTP of 95.00%. The RTP can be affected by your choice of active bet windows as not all windows have exactly the same RTP.

To help you understand the chance you have of winning money while playing this game we use a value called the return to player (RTP). This means that this game will over a statistically large number of spins pay out on average 95.00 for each 100.00 staked. This is not a promise that it will pay out this amount every time, some people will win more than this amount some people will win less as this game determines its payout each spin using a certified random number generator (RNG), so over a large enough number of spins payouts will tend to be towards this level of return.

Fairness

The outcome of each spin in this game is randomly determined in accordance with the advertised rules. The outcome of any one spin will not affect the outcome of any other spin. This game behaves fairly and has been independently tested.
